

INVITATION

Fall is here in Maine and the mice are getting restless. They would really like to start their road trip around the country. They already have some invitations from their friends in other states, but they want more since they plan to be gone all winter. And motels and interstate highways are boring! Would you like the mice to visit your town? Ask them to come!

Challenge: Create a greeting card and a presentation to invite the mice to visit your town. Include descriptions of your favorite places and activities to encourage these visitors to come!

Time: Part One: You will have 3 minutes to make an invitation and develop a performance to highlight the attractions of your town for visitors.
Part Two: You will have 1 minute to present your creations to the appraisers.

Materials: two sheets of paper color markers

Scoring: up to 20 points for the creativity of your invitation up to 20 points for the effectiveness of your presentation up to 35 points for the originality of your local attractions up to 25 points for positive team work

Special Note: If your team comes up with a great solution, please send the invitation to me. The mice are still planning their itinerary! Betsy, Travel Agent for the Mice: rebaird@verizon.net
